

CONTENTS

List of Tables	ix
Acknowledgments	xi

Introduction

Dragon Returned: a New Balance in Sino-US Relations in a Vastly Changed World	1
Danny S. L. Paau

Part I. Sino-US Relations in the New Century

Chapter One
US China Policy: New Realism in a New Century	13
Julia Chang Bloch
Chapter Two
Managing the Dragon's Rise: the China Policy of the Bush Administration	29
Jing-dong Yuan

Chapter Three

- Changing US Perceptions of China from David Bruce
to the New Century 61
Priscilla Roberts

Chapter Four

- Responsibility and Compliance in China's World Trade
Organisation (WTO) Policy:
Implications for Sino-US Relations 85
Gerald Chan

Chapter Five

- Into the New Century: Reconsidering the 'China Threat'
Factor in Sino-US Relations 111
Herbert S. Yee

Part II. Repositioning in Twenty First Century Asia and the Pacific: the United States, China and the 'Third Parties'

Chapter Six

- Russo-US Rapprochement and Sino-Russian
Relations After September 11 137
Alexander Lukin

Chapter Seven

- Prawns and Whales: the Two Koreas between
China and the United States 167
Brian Bridges and Ren Yue

Chapter Eight

- North Korea as a Key Factor in Post-September 11
Sino-US Relations 189
Charles Burton

Chapter Nine

- Australia and Sino-US Relations: Balancing Economic Opportunities with Alliance Commitments 201
Ian J. Storey

Chapter Ten

The Changing Balance of Power in South Asia and the Chinese Security Environment:

Implications for Sino-US Relations231

Ting Wai

Chapter Eleven

The Post-Cold War Strategic Interests of China and ASEAN: the Role of the United States

257

Aileen San Pablo-Baviera

Chapter Twelve

In the Shadow of Containment: Hong Kong in Cold War Sino-US Security Concerns

275

Ming K. Chan

List of Contributors297

Index303