

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Acknowledgments .....	9
List of Tables .....	11
Introduction .....	13
1. Notions, theories, concepts.....	21
1.1. The presidency in theories of European integration.....	38
1.1.1. Transactionism .....	38
1.1.2. Functionalism .....	43
1.1.3. Neofunctionalism.....	47
1.1.4. Liberal intergovernmentalism.....	51
1.1.5. Institutionalism.....	56
2. The evolution and functions of the EU presidency.....	69
2.1. The beginnings of the presidency.....	74
2.2. The EU enlargement perspective.....	82
2.3. The rotation of the presidency .....	108
2.4. The precedence of the EU member states.....	116
2.5. The team presidency .....	121
2.6. The tasks of the presidency .....	127
2.7. Paradoxes and limitations of the EU presidency .....	141
3. Preparations and exercise of the presidency.....	151
3.1. The calendar of meetings.....	163
3.2. Human resources .....	166
3.3. The presidency's priorities .....	170
3.4. The political aspects of preparing the presidency.....	174
3.5. The practice of the presidency .....	178

3.5.1. The roles and meanings of the PermRep .....	194
3.5.2. The administrative coordination.....	198
3.5.3. The Parliament and the Commission .....	203
3.5.4. The chairing of meeting .....	215
3.5.6. The European Council.....	241
3.5.7. The area of security, freedom and justice .....	265
3.5.8. The problems of non-uniform presidency.....	272
4. The meanings of presidency and EU leadership.....	283
4.1. The EU presidency and the models of integration.....	303
4.2. Political and analytical federalism .....	304
4.3. The method of economic integration .....	318
4.4. The community model .....	326
4.5. The model of flexible integration.....	335
4.6. The political model .....	341
Conclusion .....	353
Bibliography .....	359
Index .....	397