

Table of Contents

Christian Giordano and Nicolas Hayoz Introduction: Exploring Informality in Eastern Europe through Different Disciplines	9
---	---

Part I: General and Comparative Perspectives

Christian Giordano The Social Organization of Informality: The Rationale Underlying Personalized Relationships and Coalitions	27
---	----

Nicolas Hayoz Observations on the Changing Meanings of Informality	47
---	----

Anton Sterbling Aspects of “Informality” – with Particular Focus on South-Eastern Europe	67
---	----

Kristof Van Assche, Anastasiya Shtaltovna and Anna-Katharina Hornidge Visible and Invisible Informalities and Institutional Transformation in the Transition Countries of Georgia, Romania, and Uzbekistan	89
--	----

Maximos Aligisakis Shadow Economy, Corruption and Informal Political Exchanges: The Greek Case in a Comparative Perspective	119
--	-----

Part II: Central and Southeastern Europe

*Nicole Gallina*Analysing Informality: A Case-Study Based Concept applied to the Czech Republic 141*Veronika Pasyankova*The Synchronization of Communist Legacy in Postcommunist Politics and Labour: the Case of Poland 159*Tanya Chavdarova*Institutionalization of Market Order and Reinstitutionalization of Vruzki (Connections) in Bulgaria 179*Katerina Gehl and Klaus Roth*The Everyday Culture of Informality in Post-Socialist Bulgarian Politics 197*Sonja Schüller*Abuse of Office, Informal Networks, “Moral Accountability” – Political Corruption in Bulgaria 223*Edvin Zhllima and Drini Imami*Informality in Albania – The Case of Rural Land Tenure and Transactions 243*Adem Beha*Contested Statebuilding in Kosovo: the Nature and Characteristics of Serbian Parallel Structures 261*Fanny Sbaraglia*“They are with the Others”: From Gossip to Stigmatization, Romanian Civil Society through an Informal Perspective 279*François Ruegg*Social Representations of Informality:
the Roma Case 297

Part III: Post-Soviet Countries

Jonathan Wheatley

Informal and Formal Institutions in the Former Soviet Union 319

*Galina Michaleva*The Dominance of Informal Politics on the Eve of the Electoral Year 2011–2012 337*Elvira Leontyeva*Corruption Networks in the Sphere of Higher Education:
An Example from Russian Mass Universities 357*Elena Denisova-Schmidt*How Unwritten Rules Can Influence Human Resource Management in Russia 379*Andrea Friedli*Informality as a “Weapon of the Weak”? Public
Representation of Tatar Youth Movements in Kazan, Russia 397*Abel Polese*The Ambiguity and Functions of Informality:
Some Notes from the Odessa-Chisinau Route 415*Rail Safiyev*

Informality in a Neopatrimonial State: Azerbaijan 433

*Alexander Iskandaryan*Formalization of the Informal: Statebuilding in Armenia 451*Giga Zedania*Informality and the Question of Modernization:
the Case of Georgia 469

Notes on Contributors 485