

Table of Contents

A glossary of local terms	15
Acronyms	17
Chapter 1: Introduction	23
1. Statement of problem	23
2. Argument	27
3. Structure	28
Chapter 2: Designing local government for development and accommodation of diversity	31
1. Introduction	31
2. Decentralisation defined	32
3. Conceptualising development	33
4. Linking decentralisation with development	35
4.1 The 'democratic argument'	36
4.2 Efficiency and institutional responsiveness	40
4.3 The danger of inequity	43
5. Institutional features of decentralised development	44
5.1 Political autonomy	45
5.1.1 Certainty of local government's existence	45
5.1.2 Political structure and local democracy	48
5.1.3 Devolution of functions	49
5.1.4 Political powers	51
5.2 Financial autonomy	52
5.2.1 Taxing and borrowing	52
5.2.2 Inter-governmental transfers	54
5.3 Administrative autonomy	55
5.4 Central supervision and inter-governmental co-operation	55
5.4.1 Central supervision	55
5.4.2 Inter-governmental co-operation	57
6. Accommodating ethnic minorities through decentralisation	59
6.1 Introduction	59

Table of Contents

6.2	Ethnic communities and ethnic minorities	60
6.3	Managing ethnic diversity	62
6.4	Local government and accommodation of ethnic minorities	64
6.4.1	Territorial autonomy at local level	65
6.4.2	The advantages and disadvantages of territorial autonomy	69
6.4.3	Institutional features of territorial autonomy	71
6.4.4	Non-territorial options	79
7.	Conclusion	82
Chapter 3: Local administration, development, and ethnicity in Ethiopia: Historical perspective		85
1.	Introduction	85
2.	General facts about Ethiopia	85
3.	'Triple layers of authority': From Axum to the emergence of 'Modern Ethiopia'	86
3.1	Assessment	90
4.	'Creeping centralisation': The birth of 'Modern Ethiopia' (1855-1930)	91
4.1	Assessment	94
5.	Centralisation through legalisation (1930-1974)	94
5.1	Urban administrations and the 1942 administrative reform	97
5.2	Local administration and the ethnic communities of Southern Ethiopia	99
5.3	Assessment	100
6.	The zenith of centralisation under the Derg (1974-1991)	102
6.1	'Ethiopia first': The Derg on the ethnic question	102
6.2	Addressing the developmental question	104
6.2.1	The UDAs and PAs	105
6.3	The formation of the People's Democratic Republic of Ethiopia (PDRE)	108
4	Assessments	109
7.	'Back to the beginning': Re-decentralisation under the EPRDF (1991-1995)	112
7.1	The TPC on the ethnic question	113
7.2	Local government and development under the TGE	115

7.4	Assessment	116
7.5	The FDRE Constitution: the groundwork for local level decentralisation 1995-	117
8.	Conclusion	117
Chapter 4: Decentralisation within Ethiopia's federation: Constitutional basis and political motives		119
1.	Introduction	119
2.	Ethiopia's ethnic federal system	120
3.	Federal and state governments	123
3.1	Political parties and elections	125
3.2	Federal and state competences	126
3.3	Federal and state financial powers	127
4.	Local government as envisioned in the FDRE Constitution	128
4.1	Introduction	128
4.2	The ethnic local government	130
4.3	The regular local government	131
5.	Policy rationales and political motives for local level decentralisation	133
5.1	Drivers for the adoption of the DLDP	135
5.2	Decentralisation as poverty reduction strategy	137
5.3	Beyond the decentralised development rhetoric	139
6.	A brief overview of Ethiopia's local government structure	141
6.1	The ethnic local government	142
6.2	The regular local government	142
6.2.1	Addis Ababa and Dire Dawa	144
6.2.2	The kebele	145
6.3	Governance and administrative structures of local government	146
7.	Conclusion	147
Chapter 5: Decentralisation and development in Ethiopia: Local autonomy		148
1.	Introduction	148
2.	Political autonomy	148
2.1	Certainty of local government's existence	149
2.1.1	Local government as a sphere of government	149
2.1.2	Wall-to-wall local government	152

Table of Contents

2.1.3	Constitutional protection for individual local government units	154
2.2	Local democracy in Ethiopia	157
2.2.1	Assessment	160
2.3	Local government functions	161
2.3.1	The principle of subsidiarity under the federal and regional constitutions	162
2.3.2	Functional competences of local government	163
2.3.3	Assessment	168
2.4	Local government powers	172
2.4.1	Policy-making power	172
2.4.2	The power to plan	175
2.4.3	Local government legislative power	179
2.4.4	Local government executive power	182
2.4.5	Assessment	184
3.	Financial autonomy	186
3.1	Introduction	186
3.2	Taxes and fees	186
3.2.1	Woreda taxes and fees	186
3.2.2	Urban local government taxes and fees	188
3.3	Inter-governmental fiscal transfers	190
3.3.1	Block grants	191
3.3.2	Specific-purpose grants (SPGs)	195
3.3.3	Other sources of revenue	195
3.4	Expenditure autonomy	198
3.5	Assessment	199
4.	Administrative autonomy	203
4.1	Introduction	203
4.2	Determining administrative structures of local government	203
4.3	Civil service and employment	206
4.4	Assessment	207
5.	Conclusion	208
Chapter 6: Decentralisation and development in Ethiopia: Central supervision and inter-governmental co-operation		211
1.	Introduction	211

2. Central supervision of local government in Ethiopia	211
2.1 Regulating local government	212
2.1.1 Federal government policy papers	212
2.1.2 Federal framework legislation	213
2.1.3 Regional policy papers	215
2.1.4 Regional framework legislation	216
2.1.5 Assessment	217
2.2 Central oversight	218
2.2.1 Federal monitoring	218
2.2.2 Monitoring by regional and zonal governments	220
2.3 Federal and regional support to local government	222
2.4 Federal and regional intervention into local government	224
2.4.1 Federal intervention	224
2.4.2 Regional intervention	227
2.4.3 Methods of intervention	228
2.4.4 Regional intervention in urban local government	229
2.4.5 Procedural safeguards against undue central intervention	230
2.4.6 Assessment	231
3. Inter-governmental co-operation in Ethiopia	233
3.1 Introduction	233
3.2 Normative principles of co-operation in Ethiopia	234
3.3 Horizontal co-operation	235
3.3.1 Co-operation between woredas	236
3.3.2 Co-operation among cities	236
3.3.3 'Rural-urban linkages'	238
3.4 Vertical co-operation: forums for inter-governmental relations	239
3.4.1 Nationality zone councils as forums for inter- governmental co-operation	240
3.4.2 Local government associations	240
3.4.3 Communication through sectoral offices	241
3.4.4 Communication through party structure	242
3.5 Assessment	243
4. Conclusion	245

Chapter 7: Decentralisation and accommodation of intra-regional ethnic minorities in Ethiopia	247
1. Introduction	247
2. Territorial autonomy at local level	247
2.1 Normative constitutional principle for self-rule and shared rule	247
2.2 Self-rule at local level	248
2.2.1 Ethnically organised local territorial units	248
2.2.2 Secession	259
2.2.3 Governance institutions and their powers	264
2.2.4 Competences of liyu-woredas and nationality zones	270
2.2.5 Financial autonomy	274
2.3 Shared-rule	276
2.3.1 The CoN of the SNNPR	277
2.3.2 Shared-rule in regional judicial organs	280
2.3.3 The HoF	283
3. Non territorial options for accommodating ethnic minorities	287
3.1 Political representation of small autochthonous ethnic communities	288
3.1.1 Representation in woredas	288
3.1.2 Representation in cities	289
3.2 Accommodation of ethnic migrants	292
3.2.1 Political representation	292
3.2.3 Language and cultural rights of ethnic migrants	294
3.2.4 Assessment	296
4. Conclusion	299
Chapter 8: Conclusion	301
1. Introduction	301
2. Local Government and development	301
2.1 Political autonomy	302
2.1.1 Certainty of local government's existence	302
2.1.2 Local democracy	303
2.1.3 Local government's functions	304
2.1.4 Local government powers	305
2.2 Financial autonomy	306
2.3 Administrative autonomy	307

3. Central supervision and inter-governmental co-operation	308
3.1 Central supervision	308
3.2 Inter-governmental co-operation	309
4. Decentralisation and accommodation of ethnic minorities	310
4.1 Territorial autonomy	310
4.1.1 Self-rule	311
4.1.2 Shared-rule	313
4.2 Non-territorial accommodation of ethnic minorities	314
5. Ethiopia's dual local government systems: A discordant system?	315
5.1 Boundary demarcation	316
5.2 Political institutions and the electoral system	318
5.3 Division of functional competences	319
5.4 Financial powers	320
5.5 Inter-governmental relations	321
6. Institutional lessons from Ethiopia's local government system	322
6.1 Asymmetrical local government system	322
6.2 Constitutional recognition of local government	323
6.3 Political institutions and elections	324
6.4 Devolution of functions and powers	325
6.5 Financing local government	326
6.6 Inter-governmental relations	327
 Bibliography	 329
Policy papers, manuals, and reports	349
Constitutions and statutes	351
International instruments	354