

CONTENTS

NOTES ON CONTRIBUTORS	9
Luc Foisneau Introduction: Hobbes between Enlightenment and Darkness	11
Martine Pécharman Strauss: the search for the hidden foundation of modernity in the political philosophy of Hobbes	21
Jean-Christophe Merle Tönnies's view on Hobbes as a theorist of liberal society	41
Emmanuel Bernard Picavet The significance of Pareto's attack on Hobbes and natural-law theorists	49
Jean-Fabien Spitz Carré de Malberg's unHobbesian theory of sovereignty	63
Luc Foisneau Authoritarian state vs totalitarian state: Leviathan in an early twentieth-century French debate	77
Ulrich Steinvorth On Carl Schmitt's interpretation of Hobbes	95
Iain Hampsher-Monk and Keith Zimmerman Schmitt's critique of rule-of-law liberalism	109
Tom Sorell Schmitt's unHobbesian politics of emergency	129
G. A. J. Rogers Collingwood's New Leviathan	141
John Horton Oakeshott, Hobbes and the politics of scepticism	155