

Table of Contents

ANALYTICAL FRAMEWORK .....	1
Introduction .....	1
Research problem .....	2
Hypotheses and case-study .....	3
Scope, task, and structure of the study .....	5
Meta-methodology .....	9
Conceptual framework .....	14
PART I: THE CONTEXT OF SAYYID QUTB'S DISCOURSE (THE MUSLIM DASEIN) .....	47
Introductory remarks .....	48
Chapter One 'Temporal Dislocation' .....	52
The conception of time .....	52
Modernity's time consciousness .....	54
Modernization and temporal dislocation .....	56
The first scene: Temporal disembodiedness .....	59
The second scene: Temporal annexation .....	65
The third scene: Present-imprisonment .....	71
The Muslim Dasein's closed temporal horizon .....	83
Chapter Two 'Cultural Schizophrenia' .....	86
Heidegger's conception of Understanding .....	86
The existential conception of schizophrenia .....	91
Symptoms of cultural schizophrenia .....	93
The first scene: Structural violence .....	105
The second scene: Structural duality .....	115
The Muslim Dasein's no-where reality .....	122
Chapter Three 'Existential Anxiety' .....	125
Heidegger's notion of death .....	125
The existential structure of anxiety .....	129
The scene of secularization .....	138
The Muslim Dasein's encounter with death .....	155
Chapter Four 'The Being Question' .....	158
Shakib Arslan .....	158
Muhammad Abduh .....	161
Ali Abdul-Raziq .....	165
Taha Hussein .....	169
Rashid Rida .....	172
Hasan al-Banna .....	175

PART II.: THE DISCURSIVE PRACTICE OF SAYYID QUTB (THE ARCHAEOLOGICAL LEVEL) .....181

Introductory remarks .....	182
Chapter One ‘Enunciative Function’ .....	188
Qutb’s discourse as a theatrical experience .....	188
Dramatic environment .....	189
Qutb’s conception of critique .....	190
Qutb’s strategies of critique .....	193
Qutb’s innovation of the Being question .....	208
Chapter Two ‘Discursive Themes’ .....	217
Dramatic construct .....	217
The climax of Qutb’s dramatic performance .....	218
Flashback to the beginning of Qutbian drama .....	225
The middle of Qutb’s dramatic performance .....	228
The solution of the Qutbian dramatic plot .....	231
An open-end style of Qutb’s dramatic performance .....	234
Chapter Three ‘Concepts’ .....	244
Language of drama .....	244
Qutb’s inner language of ‘authenticity’ and ‘consistency’ .....	245
Qutb’s outer language of the ‘tree of Islam’ .....	249
The root level of ‘ Aqida , fitra , and reality .....	251
The stem level of Shari’a , fiqh , and Manhadj .....	256
The fruit level of Nizam and peace .....	263
Djihad and the natural growth of Qutb’s dramatic language levels .....	269
Chapter Four ‘Objects’ .....	277
Dramatic characters .....	277
The nature of Qutb’s dramatic conflict .....	278
The main characters of Qutb’s dramatic performance .....	278
The protagonist camp of Islam .....	278
The antagonist camp of Homo Occidentalis .....	284
The swingers’ camp of masjid al-dirar .....	291
The choral characters of Qutb’s dramatic performance .....	295
Two characters-related end-scenes of Qutb’s dramatic performance .....	300
Blowing off the swingers’ camp .....	300
Sayyid Qutb, the director of performance, appears onstage .....	302

PART III. : RECONSTRUCTING SAYYID QUTB’S
CONCEPTUALIZATION OF POWER (THE SUB-ARCHAEOLOGICAL LEVEL) .....307

Introductory remarks .....	308
Chapter One ‘Mode of Subjection’ .....	315
Qutb’s notion of al-Zilal .....	315
The hermeneutical approach of al-Zilal .....	320
The hermeneutical mechanisms of al-Zilal .....	325
The rebirth of the Quran .....	330
Aesthetics of the Quran .....	331

Politics of the Quran .....	337
Qutb special emotional experience of the Quran's personal authority .....	342
Chapter Two 'Asceticism' .....	344
Foucault's view of Islamic self-techniques .....	344
The conceptual substructure of Islamic asceticism .....	345
The political economy of obligations .....	353
Instances of Islamic self-techniques .....	358
1. Core self-techniques .....	359
2. God-related self-techniques .....	363
3. Man-related self-techniques .....	366
4. People-related self-techniques .....	369
The political nature of Islamic self-techniques .....	375
Chapter Three 'Ethical Substance' .....	377
Kierkegaard's definition of the self .....	377
The basic components of the self .....	378
The affective structure of the self .....	390
Unique potentialities and capabilities of the self .....	396
Chapter Four 'Teleology' .....	403
Islamic teleology .....	403
The pillars of the Rabbani-Insani worldliness .....	404
'Ululhiya and 'Ubudiya .....	405
Al-kawn (Universe) .....	412
Al-nubuwa (Prophethood) .....	414
Al-mu'djiza al-Qur'aniya (Quranic miracle) .....	416
Al-'umma al-wasat (Middle 'Umma) .....	416
Al-imama (Islamic government) .....	419
Human history .....	421
The foundational values of the Rabbani-Insani worldliness .....	426
Al-iman (Faith) .....	426
Al-djamil al-haqiqi al-kamil (Real and perfect beauty) .....	427
Al-huqq (Right) .....	428
The peak of the Rabbani-Insani worldliness: Global disclosure .....	429

CONCLUSION: RECAPITULATING THE POLITICAL THEORY OF SAYYID QUTB .....

Sayyid Qutb's Weltanschauung and political theory .....	435
Comparison of Qutb's conception of power with other power thinkers .....	453
Critique of Qutb's thought by different scholars .....	460
Looking back and looking out .....	474

NOTES .....

REFERENCES .....