

Contents

Introduction	7
Chapter I
Overlapping
Adam Smith: the government of the passions	19
1. Introduction	19
2. Hobbes' spectrums	26
3. Imagination and morality	55
4. The prudent man's social means	64
5. The aporias of justice	82
6. Middle social agent, exchange and labour	94
7. Smith, the impolitical?	116
8. Imperfect genesis	127
Chapter II
Critique
Karl Marx: surplus value and difference	139
1. Introduction	139
2. An abstract determination	141
3. The sudden changes of 1856	151
4. Labour as subjectivity	162
5. Surplus-value and difference	178
6. A controversial fragment	191
7. An absolute Separation	200
Chapter III
Disjunction
Joseph A. Schumpeter: the logos of economic theory	209
1. Introduction	209
2. A functional gnoseology	211
3. Statics and dynamics	229

4 Schumpeter, the political?	245
5. The logos of economic theory	253
6. Economic science and ideology	271
Chapter IV
Synthesis
John M. Keynes: uncertainty and normation	281
1. Introduction	281
2. Epistemic probability	288
3. Indifference and normation	297
4. An improbable ' ordre nature '	310
5. The crisis of the liberal State of right	323
6. Fundamental equations or perilous paths?	334
7. Effective demand and 'political supply'	349
8. Im Lauf der Zeit	357
9. We have to abate somewhat...	366
Bibliography	375
Index	409