

Contents

1. Introduction	13
1.1. From the European idea to the European Union	14
1.2. Public support and opposition to European integration over time	21
1.3. Importance of public opinion	24
1.4. Structure of the book	29
2. Theories of support for European integration and a theoretical model	31
2.1. Explanations of support for European integration	31
2.1.1. Economic explanations	31
2.1.2. Political explanations	34
2.1.3. Identity-based explanations	36
2.2. General framework: delegation and accountability	37
2.3. Orientation towards political systems: conceptualisation	42
2.4. Cases and datasets	44
2.5. Summary	45
3. Measuring support for European integration	47
3.1. Attitudes towards the scope of EU-level decision-making for specific policy domains	47
3.2. Cross-policy variations	49
3.3. Cross-national variations	54
3.4. Building a scale of support for EU-level decision-making: a generalised latent variable model	56
3.5. Summary	59
4. Domestic factors of support for EU-level decision-making	61
4.1. Models of explanation	63
4.1.1. Political explanations	63
4.1.2. Identity explanations	63
4.1.3. Alternative explanations	64
4.2. Bivariate analyses	68
4.2.1. Governance quality	69
4.2.2. Nationalism	71
4.3. Multivariate analysis	72
4.4. Summary	76

5. Explanations of individual support for EU-level decision-making	77
5.1. Hypotheses at the individual level	77
5.2. Typology of support	78
5.3. Explanatory factors	80
5.3.1. Orientation towards political systems: political and identity factors	80
5.3.2. Other forms of identity	84
5.3.3. Control variables	84
5.4. Empirical results	87
5.4.1. Models	87
5.4.2. Predictions on the typology of support	92
5.4.3. Control variables	94
5.4.4. Effects of independent variables for EU-15, new-10 and candidate countries	95
5.5. Summary	97
6. Multilevel analyses of support for EU-level decision-making	99
6.1. Cross-level interaction effects	99
6.2. Methodology	100
6.3. Intercepts- and slopes-as-outcomes model	100
6.4. Empirical results	102
6.5. Summary	105
7. Conclusion	107
7.1. Support for the European Union	108
7.2. Delegation and accountability	109
7.3. Future orientations	110
A. Appendix	113
A.1. Appendix: Chapter 3	113
A.1.1. Non parametric IRT	113
A.1.2. 2-parameter logistic model 2PLM	114
A.1.3. Results of the 2-PLM and association between measures of support for European integration and EU-level decision-making	116
A.2. Appendix: Chapter 4	117
A.3. Appendix: Chapter 5	119
A.4. Appendix: Chapter 6	125
Bibliography	129