Content

Perspectives on an Interdisciplinary Subject: Law, History, Philosophy, Religion, and the study of society in the Politica, 1590s–1650s.
Robert von Friedeburg 7

Controversies on reason of state: Lipsius on Scripture and Politics
Jan Waszink 15
1. Introduction 15
2. Lipsius' Politica 16
3. Religious issues in Lipsius' theory of princely fraud 22
4. The Politica and Catholic censorship, 1589–1667 27
5. Conclusion 32

Securing Power
Wolfgang E.J. Weber 33
1. Initial situation 33
2. Authors, works, and the professionalization of politics 34
3. Approaches and tools deployed to secure power and order 41
3.1 Approaches 41
3.2. Tools 44
4. Conclusion and future prospects 57

Politica Christiana in the sixteenth and seventeenth Centuries
Luise Schorn-Schütte 59
1. Introduction 59
2. Political discourse in the 16th and 17th centuries 60
3. A Christian theory of governance: politica christiana 62
3.1. Basic ideas and typical arguments 63
3.2. Nuances: The Concept of Authority, the Limits of Power and the Theory of Three Estates 64
3.3 The politica christiana at the close of the sixteenth and the beginning of the seventeenth century: Liberty of conscience, violation of duties of authorities, doctrine of the Three Estates 75
4. Conclusion 83

History and Politics in the Dutch Republic in the First Half of the seventeenth Century
Jaap Nieuwstraten 87
Introduction 87
1. Daniel Heinsius 89
2. Marcus Zuerius Boxhorn 96
Conclusion 110

The Discussion of Social and Political Conflict in the Politica
Robert von Friedeburg 113

Index nominum 135