

Contents

I. What Is a Welfare State, and What Is Welfare? Opening Reflections

Philipp Sandermann

Change and Continuity in Western Welfare Practices: Some
Introductory Comments 9

John Clarke

The End of the Welfare State? The Challenges of Deconstruction and Reconstruction 19

II. Comparative Analyses of Western Welfare State Settings

Sigrid Leitner

Varieties of Familialism: Developing Care Policies in Conservative
Welfare States 37

Jamie Peck & Nik Theodore

On the Global Frontier of Post-Welfare Policymaking: Conditional
Cash Transfers as Fast Social Policy 53

Richard Münchmeier

Regulating the Poor—Revisited: Notes on the Shifting Relationship of Social Policy and Social Work in the German Welfare State 71

III. Case Studies on Continuity and Change in Selected Western Welfare State Settings

Robert P. Fairbanks II

Recovering Post-Welfare Urbanism in Philadelphia and Chicago:
Ethnographic Evidence from the Informal Recovery House to the State Penitentiary 89

Philipp Sandermann

The German Welfare System and the Continuity of Change 107

Vincent Dubois

The Functions of Bureaucratic Routines in a Changing Welfare State:
On Interactions with Recipients in French Welfare Offices 127

Contributors 137

Index 139