

Contents

Introduction	I
HENRIETA ANIȘOARA ȘERBAN
Theoretical Argument. Totalitarian Discourse: The New Snow White /Society in the Discursive Wooden Mirror	15
PART I Creation – Identity and Memories	39
RĂZVAN VICTOR PANTELIMON
Uses and Abuses of Che Guevara's Myth in Political Cuban Discourse	41
GEERT CRAUWELS
The I and the Socialist Personality: The Questioning of an Ideological Concept in Post-GDR Literary Autobiographical Discourse	61
ARVI SEPP
Totalitarianism and Performativity: The Redemptive Language of National Socialism in Nazi Poetry	99
SOONHEE FRAYSSE-KIM
Constructing Them and Us in North Korea	123

PART II Mass Communication and Official Discourse 155

JORGE V. TIGNO AND JEAN ENCINAS FRANCO

The Language of Dictatorship in the Philippines:
Marcos and Martial Law 157

LUTGARD LAMS

Strategies of Symbolic Meaning Construction in Chinese Official Discourse 185

IVANA DOBRIVOJEVIĆ

From Liberators to Villains: The Transformation of the Image of the Soviet Soldier in the Yugoslav Press (1945–1953) 217

RŪTA PETRAUSKAITĖ

The Pathos of the Soviet Press 235

PART III Power Structures – Politics and Truth 261

KO KO THETT

The Myth of the Indispensability of the Military in Burmese
Political Culture: Totalitarian Discourse in the State of Myanmar 263

VIORELLA MANOLACHE

Totalitarian Discourse and the Rule of ‘Anti-’ 293

